COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

THURSDAY EVENING, Nov. 6.

ANY change for the better in the condition of our export trade seems as far off as ever. For the three days following the departure of last mail Cotton looked like becoming more active, but the improvement in Liverpool was merely temporary, and for that article, as well as our other leading export, Wheat, the European inquiry is again quite stagnant. The situation is the more remarkable as never before have we had freights and exchange together at so low a level, and it shows very plainly that the mere power of being able to lay down our produce cheaply is not sufficient to ensure active trade. In freights the depression is, if possible, greater than ever. Several steamers have again left in ballast for other ports, but for Liverpool cargo is not plentiful at 10s., and steamers on the berth for Continental ports are filling up slowly at 16s. 3d. to 17s. 6d. per ton. Imports are quiet without special change in values. Money is very easy; Government Paper firm; shares more active. Sterling Exchange is again slightly lower on the week, although somewhat steadier in tone at the close.

MONEY.—The last Bank of Bombay return showed a further material increase in the cash balance, and with business still very quiet, the tendency of the market has, if possible, been easier. The Bank's advertised minimum is still 4 per cent., but on Government Paper loans have been obtainable outside at 2 to 2½, and on shares at 5 per cent. per annum. The reduction in stocks of local Yarns which has taken place during the past fortnight materially diminishes the financial requirements of our local mills, and there is nothing now in the position to warrant anticipations of money getting into active request until February-March. In Calcutta, although there is a larger business doing there than here, Money is fully as cheap, the Bank of Bengal's minimum having been reduced to-day to 3 per cent. per annum.

EXCHANGE.—The general tone of the market throughout the week has been downward, but we close with a slightly steadier feeling at a decline on last Thursday's quotations of 1-16d. on Credits and ⅛d. to 5-32d. on Bank Bills. As we anticipated in our last report, the result of the allotments of Council drafts last Thursday caused the market on mail day to open very weak, and before the steamer left a fall of 1-16d. had been established in Bank Bills and 1-32d. in private paper. We accordingly opened for this mail on Saturday on the basis of 1s. 7 7-32d. for demand Bank and 1s. 7 15-32d. to ⅛d. for three months' credit bills, from which a further decline of 1-32d. took place during the day. On Monday rates again gave way 1-16d. in Bank and 1-32d. in private paper, from which no change took place until Wednesday, when a further 1-32d. decline was quoted for a time in Credits, making the quotation 1s. 7 13-32d. This was the lowest point touched, as to-day, with news of the biddings for Councils in London yesterday having resulted in 15 lakhs of drafts being allotted at 1s. 7 1-16d., and 20 lakhs of telegraphic transfer at 1s. 7½d., a firmer tone has set in with a partial recovery of 1-32d., closing rates for ready bills being:—

Bank Bills on demand	1s. 7½ to 5-32d.	per rupee.
Do. Telegraphic	1s. 7 1-16d.	"
Do. Three months' sight	1s. 7 5-16d.	"
Credits do.	do.	1s. 7 7-16d.	"
do. Six	do.	1s. 7¾d.	"
Francs Three	do.	2·05	"
do Six	do.	2·03½	"

Bar Silver in London has declined during the week from 50½d. to 50¼d. per oz., but in this it has followed not led exchange, the depressing influence in which has been the limited extent of export trade both here and in Calcutta.

We have now touched a level, however, from which a recovery becomes rather more probable than a further decline, and that this is the view generally entertained by the banks is evident in a much greater willingness to sell than buy for future delivery in proportion to current rates. No important advance, though, can be counted on until trade becomes more active, and the probabilities therefore are, that while we may go little if any lower, we shall not rise more than, say, ½ to ¾ per cent. from present figures for some weeks to come.

GOVERNMENT PAPER.—The market opened quiet last mail day at Rs. 99¼ for Fours, but money daily getting easier, bu[illegible] yesterday the quotation w[illegible] To-day a s[illegible]

WHEAT.—We have had fair arrivals during the week, which are going forward steadily under the influence of low exchange and freight, but the home demand is of the quietest and little new business is being entered upon. Prices are well supported owing to the causes mentioned, moreover next crop it is generally expected will be a small one, the extent of land under wheat being less than last year. We quote:—No. 1 Soft White Pessy, Rs. 25 to Rs. 25-8; No. 2, Rs. 24 to Rs. 25; Jubbulpore, Rs. 22-8 to Rs. 23; Red Pessy, Rs. 22-8 to Rs. 23; Laskari, Rs. 21 to Rs. 22; Hard Yellow, Rs. 22 to Rs. 23; Ahmedabad, Rs. 21-8 to Rs. 22; Katha, Rs. 18 to Rs. 18-8 per candy. The receipts to date are:—

Since 1st January ..... "	6,942,471	9,104,822	6,548,615

SEEDS.—Linseed.—After the completion of purchases for October shipment the price for ready Seed declined to Rs. 6-10, but the demand to cover previous sales has advanced the quotation again to Rs. 6-12, arrivals being now small, although quite up to an average for the time of year. For New Crop the price has advanced to Rs. 5-15 per cwt. for April, and there are now no sellers for March delivery, which, unless the crop proves earlier than is anticipated, has been rather oversold. The arrivals from up-country give the following comparisons:—

	1884.	1883.	1882.
For the week.....cwt.	51,975	22,511	29,956
Since 1st January ..... "	3,326,643	4,070,193	2,835,640

In Rapeseed there is very little doing, supplies being insignificant. We quote old Guzerat Yellow,, Rs. 6-14 to Rs. 7; Cawnpore Yellow, Rs. 6-8 to Rs. 6-10 per cwt. New Guzerat Yellow, April delivery, Rs. 6-12 to Rs. 6-13 per cwt. For Gingelly there is a good inquiry owing to the small crop reports. Prices are firm at Rs. 36 to Rs. 40 per candy, according to quality.

The following are to-day's quotations for Cotton (full-pressed) with the equivalents in sterling.

COTTON.—Influenced by the character of the home advices our market in the early part of the week was very firm, with an advance of about Rs. 3 per candy in new crops. During the past three days, however, the tone has again been dull and Re. 1 of the advance has been lost, whilst old Cotton is Rs. 2 per candy lower on the week. In ready stuff the transactions have been very limited, and in new for future delivery they have not been large, say, about 3,000 bales in all, comprising good Broach for March at Rs. 210 to Rs. 221. Good Oomra for March at Rs. 180 to Rs. 12, Good Bengal for December at Rs. 145 to Rs. 146. The movements too as will be seen from the subjoined figures, continue insignificant both in the matter of receipts and exports, nor are we likely to see much increase in activity so long as home accounts are so slack, the stocks in the country being very moderate and the new crop late.

New Crop reports are on the whole fairly satisfactory. Of Bengals we have had nothing but samples yet, and these are not satisfactory showing as they do a large quantity of stained and damaged cotton. The small quantities coming into the district markets are being held up by the local dealers who ask absurd prices as high as Rs. 148 being asked for good this month's delivery. From the Oomra districts reports are good as regards ultimate probable out-turn, current estimates being from 75 per cent. to a full crop. Broach is also well spoken of. Dhollera is irregular. In the Dhollera neighbourhood itself the crop will be poor, but Bhownugger promises well and Wudwan very well, so that on the average we may look for about the same as last season. Every growth, however, without exception, will be late and very little new stuff, except Bengals, will be exported before the end of the year, nor are supplies in January even likely to be large.

The movements of Cotton to date show the following comparisons with the two previous years:—

The Bombay Gazette

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1884.

THE Parliamentary paper on "The Defence of the British Colonies and Stations Abroad" is to some extent a disappointing document, in regard both to the information that it contains and to the proposals that it makes. It would be unreasonable, nevertheless, to complain of the reticence with which the authorities have from the first acted in regard to this matter. The publication, for instance, of the report of Lord Carnarvon's Commission on Colonial Defences, while it would gratify the very natural curiosity of the British public, would make a too considerable addition to the information which our neighbours possess in regard both to our weakness and to our strength. Absolute secrecy has all along been maintained in regard to the proceedings of the Commission, as well as to their recommendations. No one outside the Cabinet and the members of the Commission is believed to possess a copy of the report, and though a recent occurrence has made people doubt if it is possible to guarantee the inviolability of State secrecy, it is morally certain that the authorities will be able to keep their own counsel upon this matter. The proposals of the Government are evidently the outcome of the labours of Lord Carnarvon's Commission, though it is evident that they represent but an instalment of the scheme embodied in their recommendations. For no one would suppose that a Royal Commission, after an inquiry of nearly two years' duration into the defensive necessities of the whole of the Empire outside the United Kingdom, would have contented themselves with drawing up a programme for the execution of works representing an outlay of less than £900,000—an outlay little more than a third of that which the House of Commons sanctioned in a single year in Lord Palmerston's time for improving the defences of some of the home ports. The inadequacy of the sum proposed to be expended is not, however, so serious as it seems at first sight. The Royal Commission of 1882 may be presumed to have included Australia in the scope of their inquiry, and if the present scheme makes no provision whatever for the defensive necessities of that part of the Empire, the reason is that the Australian colonies are doing a good deal towards their own defence. In Victoria, for instance, the Marquis of Normanby announced last year that the military and naval defences of the colony are about to be completed. A colonial fleet, such as it is, already exists, but the colonists are not satisfied with it, and before long it will have six gunboats in its service, armed with breechloading guns of the newest design. But the question of colonial defence is dependent largely upon that of Australasian Confederation. Until that has been settled in a practical way there can be no adequate provision for meeting the naval and military requirements of Australasia. So it was insisted at the Intercolonial Conference at Sydney last November, and so the public opinion of the colonies affirms. Meantime it is believed that the positions and the defences of the capitals would protect them against raids, and that it is only the minor coast towns which are absolutely defenceless.

Still, even if it be assumed that the Australasian part of the Empire is able to supply its own local requirements, it must be acknowledged that £900,000 is a small sum to expend upon the work that remains. Nearly half of it, it is believed, would be required for placing Aden alone in a proper state of defence, and the remainder, according to the estimates of competent authorities, would just meet half the requirements of Bombay alone. The fact that Bombay is altogether left out of the programme is its most unsatisfactory and disappointing feature. Of the virtually defenceless condition of the harbour, and of the disadvantage, not to India alone, but to the Empire at large, which might result from the absence of a dock large enough to receive a first-class ironclad, we have repeatedly spoken. No one has spoken more seriously upon the subject than Sir Thomas Brassey, and the fact that a Lord of the Admiralty has given expression to the prevalent opinion regarding it affords some reason for the hope that action will not be much longer delayed. Meantime we must thankfully accept the programme which has been agreed on between the Treasury, the War Office, and the Colonial Office, provided always that it be accepted merely as part of a larger scheme, the completion of which must not be long delayed. We can at least recognize something of a plan and a principle in it. It purpose apparently is to make more secure two of the great lines of maritime communication which unite the mother country with her outlying possessions. The first line is that to India, China, and Australasia by way of the Suez Canal; the second is that to the same countries by way of the Cape of Good Hope. The one is provided for—insufficiently it may be—in the appropriations for defensive works and armaments at Aden, Trincomalee, Colombo, Singapore, and Hongkong; the other is provided from the appropriations for Sierra Leone, St. Helena, Simon's Bay and Table Bay, and Mauritius. India has an enormous interest in the maintenance and security of both lines, for the opening of the Suez Canal has by no means rendered her absolutely independent of the Cape route. The chances of war, even when they are not feared, must be reckoned with, and we cannot afford to ignore the possibility, remote though it be, of a hostile occupation of the Suez Canal and the closing of one avenue of communication. Thus then the intention to improve the defences even of such a remote corner as Sierra Leone and of a barren rock in the Atlantic like St. Helena is a matter of Indian concern, reminding us that the Indian Empire is itself only part of a vast Imperial system whose members are interdependent.

There will [illegible] be little objection to [illegible] Home Government [illegible] cost of these works. [illegible] defence and better [illegible] could be undertaken at [illegible] India and Great Britain [illegible]h. Aden is an outpost of [illegible] something more. Administra[illegible] part of India, and it is [illegible] part by troops from this [illegible] essential a part of the [illegible] is may be realized if we [illegible]ment what the strategic [illegible]ry would be if Aden had [illegible]on of another Power. It [illegible] in that case the greatest [illegible] not have been left with[illegible]fence, as Bbay still is. It may [illegible] be hoped that so soo as the outworks are completed, the defen of the citadel itself will be taken in hand, r it is not to be supposed that Bombay is [illegible]ely for protection upon the fortifications [illegible]aden, formidable though they may be m[illegible] to the necessity for the prompt execu[illegible]e programme, there can be no qu[illegible]en so deliberate a statesman as [illegible] himself more ready to show why a thing should not be done than to urge in the other direction—is of opinion that action should be taken with the least possible delay, the subject may be deemed to be outside the range of controversy. No measure that the Government could have sanctioned would have had a better effect at home and in the colonies. If only it be followed up by greater efforts in the same direction, it will supply a practical refutation of the widely prevalent notion that the party in power have no care for the Empire as such, that they are indifferent to the maintenance of the Imperial connection, and that they would be ready to part company with the colonies on very small provocation. They have, it is true, to play a very resolute part in South Africa, and to make amends for some grievous wrong-doings and shortcomings in that part of the world before they have freed themselves from the imputation. But this measure will go a long way towards refuting much that has with very good reason to be alleged against Mr. Gladstone's Government on this score. The point that must be insisted upon now is that public opinion at home and abroad will thankfully accept this programme, if it be distinctly understood that it is only an instalment of a greater scheme. If it be put forward as a revelation of the whole counsel of the Government in this matter, it will be regarded with unconcealed dissatisfaction.

THE competition for the premiums offered by the Bombay Municipality for designs for the new Municipal Hall and Offices closed yesterday, when sixteen sets of plans were sent in, several of them coming from England. Of the merits of these designs the public will have an opportunity of judging in a few days, when arrangements for viewing them will be completed. The numbers sent in, and the fact that English architects have thought it worth while to compete, scarcely bear out the anticipations of those who, when the conditions of the competition were announced, said that they would deter people from entering. From a purely professional point of view there may have been much to object to in the condition that the Municipal Commissioner would not bind himself to employ the architect whose design is adopted to supply working drawings and to superintend the carrying out of the work. But the premium of five thousand rupees, even with this uncertain condition attached, has proved sufficiently tempting. The task of selection from so wide a field will probably be anything but an easy one, but the public have sufficient confidence in the judgment of the Municipal Commissioner to expect that the best man will win in the competition. Something, of course, will depend upon the co-operation of the Committee of the Corporation which will be associated with Mr. Ollivant in the task of selection. If we may be permitted to make any suggestion on the subject, it is that the Committee be made as representative as possible—at any rate that the non-professional element be not excluded. Of the value of technical advice in the making of a choice of this kind there can be no doubt. But it is just possible that there may be too much of it.

OUR correspondent with the Zhob Field Force states that Shahbaz Khan, the hereditary chief of Zhob, has come into Sir Robert Sandeman's camp. His story is that when a boy his cousin, Shah Jehan, had seized the chieftainship, and has tried to secure the succession to his own son. Recent events have given Shahbaz a chance of the throne, and he is now a "claimant in the British camp."

WE are informed that the Government of India have withdrawn their objection to the Port Trustees proceeding with the construction of the new dock.

THE FIGHTING IN THE ZHOB VALLEY.

(FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.)

NEAR SHAH JEHAN'S FORT, Oct. 23.

My last letter was from Laki in the Luni Valley. Our next march took us to Anambar through a pass. Below the camp two rivers meet, in which there are not only large quantities of fish, but mahseer of considerable size also, and Captain Wood, of the 98th, a noted fisherman, secured four beauties in one trip. Next day, 12th October, Sir Robert Sandeman and General Sir O. V. Tanner and staff, taking the two companies of Bengal Sappers and Miners, 5th Punjab Cavalry squadron, and P. W. O. Grenadiers with him, went off to Dalai in the Bori Valley. It will be remembered that our column made for Zhob through the Luni Valley, and that I referred to other entrances into the Zhob country to the left of our route down—one being at Zandra, the late head-quarters of the Grenadiers, and another at Sanjawe, from which a flank attack had to be guarded against by an advance of troops from Duhki. This selection of our objective, I have already explained, was due to the Bori tribes being thus, at the outset, severed from the Musa Khels, with the happiest results. Had either of the other passes been utilized for the advance the Boris, who have since submitted, might, almost against their will, have been rolled back upon the hostile tribes in rear who still hold out. Sir Robert Sandeman's policy towards the Bori people inducing them to declare for us (which resulted not only in their being unmolested, but enabled them to sell their produce at a great profit), it became of importance to change the line of communications with Quetta to the safest short route through the now friendly Bori Valley, and this will explain the move to Dalai.

During my stay of several days at that place I took occasion to question various intelligent inhabitants as to their views on the subject of our coming into their country, and I was much surprised to find, generally speaking, that they were neither displeased nor indifferent regarding our visit, but solicitous to come under British protection, as they explained—not without reason—that their past life had been one of unpleasant excitement, thanks to the passage through their midst of Zhobi raiding parties, and the consequent complications with their unpleasant neighbours on the one side and the "Sirkar Ingrez" on the other. It is very doubtful whether in the recent attacks on our outposts the Boris are as innocent as they tried to make me believe, but the desire to become British subjects is genuine enough. Civil and military considerations both seem to require the establishment of a military post in the valley, and I hope the time is close at hand when it will figure in the Army Lists. Perhaps Sir Oriel's care in the selection of the site for the fort at Delai, which is to contain the Commissariat stores, and the rapid running up of the fort itself, indicates that some such step is contemplated. On the 13th October a reconnaissance party, consisting of the 5th Punjab Cavalry, "Domville's Horse," and a company of P. W. O. Grenadiers, proceeded to the Toorkazai Pass, under command of Major Carr, of the first-named corps. The infantry being left nine miles out, and heliographic communication having been established with camp, the cavalry proceeded on seventeen miles to the confines of Zhob, and had a look down into the valley. Their description of the capture of the first prisoner and some cattle caused much amusement on their return to camp, which did not occur till 9 p.m., and the young bloods who accompanied Major Carr claim that the hurried departure of Shah Jehan from his capital is due to their unexpected appearance being reported in the Zhob capital. About this I have my doubts, but I would here offer my humble testimony to the excellent manner in which the cavalry outpost duties are performed in this column. [illegible] we reach a hill whence a good out-look can be obtained a[illegible] practicable for cavalry which has not half an hour before been occupied by a vidette. Never do we halt without getting trustworthy news of all sorts regarding the country fourteen and often more miles beyond, obtained by eye-witnesses of the Bengal Lancers and Punjab Cavalry. To-day one of the Bombay Lancers, pointing to the northern hills fifteen miles off, said they were full of people, adding he was there yesterday.

On the 16th October the head-quarter wing of the 1st B. N. I. (the other wing comes on later) came into Dalai with a large convoy by the Sanjawe route, and with the detachment of Madras Pioneers, company of Bengal Sappers, M-1 Battery, and troop 5th Punjab Cavalry are to garrison the new base of operations at Dalai. General Sir Oriel Tanner and staff, taking with him the convoy and other troops, proceeded on the 17th back to Anambar, Sir Robert Sandeman remaining with his escort to go direct to our next day's camp at Moraie.

On the 18th October the following, forming the Zhob column, left Anambar, the Bengal Lancers and 4th P. N. I. being 14 miles ahead on advance guard:—General and staff, 9-1 R. A. (Mountain Battery), 98th Regiment, troop 5th Punjab Cavalry, head-quarters and squadron 1st Bombay Lancers, company Sappers and Mi[illegible]ers, P. W. [illegible] (Rattray's) Sikhs. The above brigade is under command of Colonel Armstrong, C. B., of the 45th Sikhs, with Lieut. Holmes as his Brigade Major.

The country between the Bori and Zhob Valleys is best described as a series of parallel rocky ridges running roughly N.E. and S.W., with narrow valleys between them, mostly consisting of stony strips with occasional bits of cultivation. In it there are a few huts, one village, and many unkempt cemeteries. The record of our march through it would be of no interest except to the budding geologist, who would have been able to regale himself to his heart's content with examples of strata, dip, inclination, anticlination, denudation, formation of rocks, &c., &c.

On the 20th the column entered Zhob from the heights to the south, the troops and mules by a short cut down a torrent bed, the baggage on camels by a circuitous route, which kept the rear guard out till after dark. Camp was pitched on the banks of a river with a little water in it. There are, however, a good many quicksands, so care had to be exercised in fording it.

At break of day on the 21st the column moved off in an unlooked-for direction S. W. towards the ranges of hills we had descended, and we learnt that Shah Jehan and his followers had fled, in which direction is doubtful. We encamped at 10-30 a. m. about two miles from the foot of the hills near two large trees, close to water, having passed a succession of walled enclosures flanked by one or more bastions. A final effort was this day made by Sir Robert to induce the maliks to come in; and this proving ineffectual, he determined to give the valley a lesson they are not likely to forget, and there is no doubt that on subsequently comparing notes with the Bori people they will sorrowfully have to acknowledge what fools they were. From half way to camp traces of the inhabitants having attempted to secrete their property by burying it were everywhere apparent, but looting was discountenanced by the summary punishment of those discovered at it.

Very early on the morning of the 22nd "Domville's Horse," as the levies are styled, went out foraging, and came in about mid-day with any amount of camels, cattle, and sheep, representing a very large money value. Later in the day a company of Sappers, with a strong covering party from the regiments in camp, under command of Captain McRae, 45th Sikhs, brother of two well-known and popular officers in our Presidency, went out to blow up the towers, and to search the surrounding country for supplies, and before this the Agent Governor-General and Sir Oriel and his staff had proceeded with a wing of the 4th P. N. I. to occupy Shah Jehan's fort nine miles off, the apartments of which chief are described as hovels.

I went out to watch the proceedings of the parties sent to destroy the towers, and (thanks to the cunning of some of my followers, and my own experience on the Kharan trip of the locale of the underground granaries) was enabled to point out to Capt. Reilly, the Chief Commissariat Officer, a large store of secreted corn. Farther on in the afternoon I found myself near a good-sized fort flanked by two towers, where Major Tomkyns, R. E., the Superintending Engineer, was busy directing the operations of his officers, Captain Hoskyns, R. E., and Lieutenants Maxwell and Horniblow, each of whom had several forts to blow up. About half an hour afterwards Lieutenant Tinley, Bombay Lancers, rode up and said he had detected a body of men behind an adjacent ridge, for which a number of officers rode with a small escort, but on topping it they found that the armed lot had bolted, and that there were no arms in the village which the officers had reached. A few guns and swords were unearthed, the rest having evidently been removed to the hills; and the covering parties shortly after appearing, Captain McRae secured large flocks of cattle and sheep. The villages nearer camp were searched in the same way, and that comedy and tragedy are nearly allied was exemplified by the struggle for a young camel round the neck of which an aged female persistently clung; and report says that fourteen dooly-wallahs were knocked down in succession by an irate virago, but this seems about one dooly-walla too many.

As we rode back in the evening, the towers, which had been mined in the centre of the base, were blown up. Their sides generally bulged out with a thud, the amount of powder used being well calculated for the work to be done, and so there was not much of a pyrotechnical display. In the evening news was brought in that Lieutenant Wahab, R. E., had been stalked and fired at while out surveying. His escort came in all right, but of the levies two were killed, six wounded mortally while foraying, and all of these were cut about the right hand, showing that the tulwar is faulty without a guard. One man had his head cut clean off.

To-day foraging parties have been out for grain and bhoosa, but nothing of importance has occurred; but the flashing of the heliograph shows that Major Heyland and the Bombay Lancers have been busy in the northern range, to which a considerable force proceeds to-morrow. A force also proceeds towards Dalai to bring in an expected convoy.

As I write, news reaches me that the Lancers were fired on, and that there is a large force in the northern hills. Shahbaz Khan, Shah Jehan's nephew has come in, but, as I told you some months ago, his doings are of no political importance.

I omitted to mention that on the day Major Carr reconnoitred the Toorkazai Pass. Mr. Scott ascended the mountains north of the Bori Valley and saw into Zhob, but could not do much surveying, as there was a tremendous duststorm raging therein. This officer is well known on the Bengal side, and though not a soldier has seen more active service, in many senses of the word, than the greater portion of those who claim that distinction. A recommendation in his behalf for the grant of a captain's commission in the Staff Corps, with a view to his employment in the Quartermaster-General's Department, was not entertained, I am told, for want of a precedent; but he was granted a personal allowance in recognition of his special services.

AKHTARZAI, Oct. 25.

As anticipated in my last letter, we had an exciting day yesterday. On the 23rd October the Bombay Lancers, while reconnoitring in the northern hills (our camp being near the base of the southern ones), came upon numerous cattle tracks converging towards a certain gor

THE HYDERABAD DISTURBANCE.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

HYDERABAD (DECCAN), Nov. 6.

The details of the late émeute as published in your contemporary's issue of the 3rd inst. are wholly incorrect and misleading. The actual facts of the occurrence, as told to me by an authority upon whom you may fully rely, are as follows :—

The 3rd Infantry taboot, escorted by seventeen men, was being carried over the Poorana Pool (old bridge) to the river. Sultan Nawaz Jung's grandchildren, mounted on an elephant, followed at a little distance behind. They were accompanied by two-hundred armed Arabs. The taboot had reached a point of the bridge which was not only narrow, but densely crowded. At this spot Sultan's Arabs insisted on getting in advance of the taboots. A sepoy of the 3rd Infantry remonstrated, saying the attempt would be fraught with great danger, and that some one would surely be trampled to death. The next moment a Siddee follower of Nawaz Jung's rushed up, and levelling a blow at the sepoy with his sword almost lopped off his leg. Seeing this, a policeman close by whistled to his comrades for aid. The Siddee next struck him also a blow which ripped his coat open and wounded him in the hand. In a few minutes several policemen came up, and Kotwal Akbar Jung himself appeared on the scene. He demanded the surrender of the Siddee, whom the Arabs had by this time contrived to allow to make his escape ; but the movement being detected by the police, the man was seized, pinioned, and taken away. The Arabs then hastily retreated. This occurred at about 5 p.m. At 6-30 the Kotwal was informed that hundreds of Arabs had collected near Nawaz Jung's palace and were preparing to advance towards the City gates. He accordingly directed the principal gates, viz., those leading to the Residency and Chudderghat, to be strongly guarded, ordered his assistant to reconnoitre the position of the main body of Arabs, and himself galloped through the City to the Minister for orders to call in the aid of the military force. The Minister also saw the necessity for prompt action, but nevertheless directed the Kotwal to proceed in person to the Residency and report the matter to Mr. Cordery before taking further action. The Resident fully approved of the measures already adopted and those proposed by the Kotwal, and himself suggested certain steps to quell the disturbance. The Kotwal then rode back to the City, informed the Minister of what had transpired, issued the necessary orders for calling in the force from Golconda, and with a small detachment of police took his stand in front of Dharminar, within a few yards of Nawaz Jung's palace, where he remained till morning. The Arabs, who at the very best are a most cowardly lot, finding that their chances of getting out of the City gates lay in fighting through the guard posted by Akbar Jung to defend them, gave up the attempt, and then turned off to the police chowkeys to vent their rage on the few policemen who were left in charge of them. They hewed and hacked to pieces some three men who could not defend themselves, but at the least sign of resistance turned and fled. Before they had proceeded far, however, the military body from Golconda arrived, and detachments were posted along the main streets. The Arabs then quickly left the chowkeys and rushed back to the Nawab's palace. Quiet was soon restored, but not without some difficulty. The absurd rumour that Akbar Jung fled before the rioters is unfounded ; it has probably been set afloat by one or two individuals whose want of courage he had rebuked that very night with some severity. The highest authorities here are unanimous in declaring it to be due to his prompt advice and action that much bloodshed was prevented on the night of Thursday last ; and it may be said, without fear of contradiction, that perhaps through his foresight he owes not only his own safety in the Residency and in the almost wholly unprotected suburbs. The evidence already recorded by the Commission now sitting bears out the facts I have narrated.

THE LONDON EXHIBITION OF 1886.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

SIMLA, Nov. 6.

It is most probable that India will take part in the London Exhibition of 1886. Mr. E. C. Buck has gone home primarily to arrange the details of Indian representation at the Exhibition on the supposition that the Exhibition will be held in 1886, but if the Royal Commission should think that in view of the difficulty of giving India sufficient space, a separate Exhibition for India, to take place in a subsequent year, would be preferable, Mr. Buck has been authorized to consent to such an arrangement. Probably, however, no such conclusion will be come to by the Commission.

IN writing of the recent interview between the new Viceroy and the members of the Indian Reform Association, a correspondent adds a few particulars as to his personal aspect and bearing. According to the writer :—" Lord Dufferin is only of middle stature, though probably an inch or two more than the great Dalhousie, who bore himself so imperiously. He is somewhat spare, though not slender, in build : features striking, though the head is not large ; countenance bears marks of foreign residence, open and unmeasuring yet withal reserved in expression. Two of us—who knew the late Sir Bartle Frere well—found that without concert we had both noticed certain rather curious points of manner between the two—a certain similarity in voice and even more in gesture : but poor Sir Bartle overdid the cautious and diplomatic manner ; in Lord Dufferin it is implied rather than directly indicated."

IT may not be generally known that match-making—Lucifer match-making—has once more been added to the industries of Bombay, an enterprising Hindoo capitalist having on the 1st of this month opened a factory for the purpose at Chinchpoogly. The machinery, which has been brought out from England, is worked by steam. The experiment is not a new one in Bombay. Some years ago a match factory was started by a European, who carried it on with a good deal of success, but on the concern passing into the hands of twelve Brahmins its prosperity vanished, and the factory disappeared. A second venture was made a little later, but this also failed. But there is proverbial luck in third attempts, and we must all hope that in this case Mr. Lowe's famous ex luce lucellum will be realized.

Mr. O'Neil, the English Consul at Mozambique, has made more than one effort to reach Nyassa from the coast, but his endeavours up to this have been fruitless.

THE present Governor of Bombay, remarks the Englishman, seems determined to encourage the study of agriculture amongst the junior civilians, from the recent announcement of the proposed selection of a candidate for a course of training in an agricultural college in England. The Calcutta paper regards it as a certainty that the native press in Bombay complain that the offer was not made to one of their countrymen, considering the success that has attended the Bengali students who have been sent home to the College at Cirencester. As yet, there has been no sign of the outburst of complaint thus prophesied.

SURGEON-GENERAL CUNNINGHAM gives up his post of Sanitary Commissioner with the Government of India in the spring, and has therefore abandoned his intended visit to Australia on leave. The Allahabad paper states that the question of his successor, which is already settled in favour of Surgeon-General Simpson, seems likely to be re-opened, and may even possibly be unsettled. Dr. Arthur Payne has already sent in a memorial contesting the justice of his own supersession. It will fall to Lord Dufferin to deal with the matter finally.

THE butchers at Madras have abandoned their strike and presented themselves at their stalls in the Royapettah market for business. In pointing out that the Municipal demand made upon them was only a small one, and that the outcry against it was altogether disproportionate, the leading Madras paper remarks that the relative insignificance of the tax does not get over the fact that the impost is one in a retrogressive direction, which is not in harmony with opinions usually held in Great Britain. It appears that there are on an average 37,000 sheep and 800 cattle killed within Municipal limits every month, and the extra charge of one anna per head for slaughtering them, will yield about Rs. 2,375 per mensem to the Municipal exchequer, or some Rs. 28,500 per annum, which in a short time may increase to Rs. 30,000. The temptation to "double it," remarks the Mail —as the dealer does at Vingt-et-un—will be great, if the Municipal exchequer is found to be badly in need of further replenishment. The collection of two annas will be just as easy as the collection of one anna, and there may be less outcry against the second anna than there has been against the first. The bakers also have cause to watch events with some anxiety. It is no more unreasonable to tax bread than meat ; and let it once be admitted that there is no violation of a first principle of political economy in taxing food, and where will such taxation stop ?

KIDO, an attaché of the Japanese Legation at Berlin, has embarked at Marseilles for Yokohama. To make sure that if he died at sea his body would not be consigned to the deep, he has taken with him a beautiful coffin and everything necessary for embalment. All his papers, and his will in such an event, are to remain in a box which has been placed in the hands of the captain of the steamer Sindh. General Kaweggi, the Japanese prefect of police, who was in Paris four years ago, took a similar precaution and—died at sea.

THE action brought by Lord Lytton to restrain the publication of the late Lord Lytton's letters to his wife seems likely to have several interesting features. The property in the letters as pieces of paper, says the Law Times, is vested in Lord Lytton as his father's executor. Such property is generally vested in the recipients of letters, but at the time in question a wife was incapable of holding such property, and even the letters written before marriage vested in her husband on the marriage. Since the Married Women's Property Act letters written subsequently to the Act by a husband to a wife are as pieces of paper the property of his wife. The literary property in the letters—that is, the right to publish copies of them—remains in all cases in the writer. This was decided as long ago as 1741, in "Pope v. Curll, 2 Atk., 342," when the poet obtained at the hands of Lord Hardwick an injunction against the publisher who proposed to print some of Pope's letters. It has sometimes been said that the recipient of a letter may publish it for the purposes of personal vindication. How far this is law is a question of doubt, and it would hardly apply as between husband and wife, still less as between their respective representatives after the death of both, when the matters in question have passed into the region of history.

AS MR. Morosoni, Jay-Gould's partner, has declined to receive his daughter and her coachman husband, the bride has accepted an engagement to sing at Niblo's Gardens at £20 a night. The New York papers ridicule the fuss which has been made about this mesalliance, as they point out that "there is really no inequality between the parties in origin, or condition, or education." It appears that Morosoni was a railway brakesman only a few years ago, and, being also distinguished as a prize-fighter, he was hired by Jay-Gould as a kind of body-guard at a time when that financier was threatened with assaults by numerous rude persons who alleged that they had been defrauded by him. This position put good chances in Morosoni's way, and, as he was a sharp man and not too scrupulous, he quickly acquired a large fortune, and now, according to the New York Post, "lives in a style which, no doubt, makes a coachman seem a very inferior sort of person." Another journal declares that "the worst part of poor Victoria Morosoni's entire escapade is the exposure it makes of her father's extensive powers of making a fool of himself."

PHOTOGRAPHING THE MOHURRUM.

ADVANTAGE was taken during the recent Mohurrum to photograph, for the first time, many of the distinguishing features of the celebration in Bombay. In a series of views taken by Mr. Shivshanker Narayen, of the School of Art, the recent development of the photographic art is illustrated by the preservation of no fewer than fourteen of the most striking scenes occurring on the last day of the holidays. Of special interest are several admirable photographs of the representation of the passion play at H. H. Aga Khan's bungalow at Mazagon. This highly picturesque and moving celebration was taken at six different stages, and the views are not only notable as the first of a unique spectacle, but as evidence of the perfection with which the art of instantaneous photography is approaching. Mr. Shivshanker's selection has been a happy one, as all who were privileged to be spectators on the occasion will readily acknowledge, and the chief dramatic episodes in the play are reproduced with absolute fidelity. The first of this series shows the ill-fated Hoosein, seated on the stage, reciting to his relatives his determination to accept the challenge which he is warned will result in his death. In this view his sister and daughters whom he is addressing are grouped in front. Later on Hoosein, mounted on his white Arab, is giving a last kiss to his infant ere he rides out to meet his foe—the most affecting incident in the drama. Then follow the bringing back of his bier, with the wild display of mourning it provokes. In each photograph the actors and spectators all appear in the scene. The great procession of the taboots is photographed from eight standpoints along the route, and the views vividly recall all the bustle and excitement of the crowded streets. Perhaps the chief success of the photographer was here obtained in the picture of the fine Kazi Mohola taboot, with its hundreds of followers passing through the Null Bazaar-street. But the aspect of the streets —so full of life—is equally striking throughout the series, and a single photograph conveys at a glance an impression of the Mohurrum such as pages of description would fail to give.

PROPOSED RIPON HALL FOR SHOLAPORE.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

SHOLAPORE, Nov. 5.

A PRELIMINARY meeting has been held at the Judge's bungalow here to consider in what form Lord Ripon's services to India should be commemorated by the inhabitants of Sholapore. The Judge presided. Among those present were members of the legal and mercantile communities. After an animated discussion it was resolved to call a public meeting and to raise subscriptions for the purpose of erecting a town hall for Sholapore. The sum subscribed on the spot amounted to over Rs. 1,900. The want of a public building in Sholapore has been long felt.

It has been decided by the City Municipality of Sholapore to take over the management of the primary schools in the city from the 1st April next. By taking this step the Municipal Commissioners are entering on a new and important phase of their responsibilities. The President of the Municipality has expressed himself as being very glad to find the Commissioners so ready and willing to co-operate with the Government. A school board has also been appointed with six members. The chairman is yet to be nominated. The members of the board are Rao Bahadoor Appajee Rowjee, Mr. N. G. Deshmukh, Mr. G. J. Kelkar, Mr. L. S. Kolhatkar, B.A., Mr. Hirachand Nemchund, and Khan Saheb Kajee Sultan.

The accused was a tent-lascar employed at Government House, Parell, and occupied a room in the same, in one of the out-buildings of Government House compound. The woman was found dead in her house under circumstances already reported in these columns. The magistrate, after taking the evidence of several witnesses for the prosecution, committed the prisoner for trial at the ensuing Criminal Sessions of the High Court.

BIRTHS AND DEATHS IN BOMBAY.—The total number of deaths registered during the week ended on Tuesday, 4th November, was 353, being 25 less than in the previous week, 75 more than the week ending 6th November, 1883, and 25 more than the mean of the corresponding period in the preceding five years. During the week 297 births were reported in the different districts of the city. The rate of mortality per 1,000 of population per annum was 24·80, calculated on the increase of population since 1881. There were 92 deaths from remittent fever, 17 less than the previous week, and 29 more than in the same period last year. The deaths from diseases of the respiratory system, diarrhœa, and dysentery were last week 55, 17, and 11 respectively, as compared with 55, 12, and 9 in the same time last year. Five deaths from cholera were registered last week as compared with 20 in the week previous.

A FALSE CHARGE OF ASSAULT.—At the Fort Police Court yesterday, Mrs. Pryer appeared before Mr. Jayaker to answer a charge of assault preferred against her by a cook named Pascol De Souza. The complainant said that one day about the middle of last month he told his mistress, the defendant, that he would not serve her any more, and that she should find some other servant. She told him to get one for her, and as he said he would not be able to do so, she threatened to strike him. When he was giving up the things in his charge, she slapped him on the face, pushed him, and kicked him on the leg, causing it to bleed. He at once went to a constable and reported the assault. Mrs. Pryer, when asked what took place, denied the assault. She said she had only pushed him out of the house and slammed the door on him. She did so because he was very dilatory in his work. On the day in question she had a number of visitors, and when she called for the kettle the complainant was very impertinent and laughed at her. She had witnesses who would speak to that fact. The statements complainant had made could not be proved, as he had no witnesses. His worship said he believed the explanation made by Mrs. Pryer, and dismissed the case.

FOGING A CERTIFICATE.

AT the Fort Police Court yesterday, before Mr. Cooper, Francis Xavier De Sa, alias Thomas De Sa, lately a student in St. Xavier's College, was charged with having attempted to cheat Colonel Ostrehan, Deputy Commissary-General, by means of a letter purporting to be addressed to him by the Rev. Julius Meyer. Mr. Little prosecuted.

The accused is a Goanese, and about 17 years of age. He seems to have been looking for employment for some time, but his applications to different firms were unsuccessful. He evidently thought that this result was due to his wanting written vouchers for his respectability and business aptitude ; so to supply the deficiency he armed himself with a highly complimentary letter bearing the signature of the Rev. Rector of St. Xavier's College, and delivered it at the office of the Deputy Commissary-General. Unfortunately for the accused, Mr. D'Aguiar, the Deputy Assistant Commissary-General, was acquainted with the writing of the Rev. Father Meyer, and immediately detected the impudent forgery. He wrote to the Reverend Father, forwarding the letter, and the reply proved conclusively that a fraud had been attempted. A warrant was then obtained, and De Sa was arrested. The Rev. Father J. Haini, prefect of studies in the college, proved that the signature attached to the letter was not written by Father Meyer. The latter did not intend to come, as he was away at Khandalla on account of his health.

De Sa pleaded guilty to the charge, and said that as his various applications for employment had proved fruitless he had been driven to adopt this course. He did not think the matter would turn out so seriously. He begged to apologise.

His worship said this was a very serious offence, and he would award a severe punishment in order to deter others from acting in the same way. The accused was sentenced to two months' simple imprisonment.

TELEGRAPHIC WEATHER REPORT.

SIMLA, Nov. 6.—The barometer is still rising generally, though in Burmah, at Sibsagar, at the Behar stations, and at Salem there has been a slight decrease. The lowest pressures are still reported from the south-west corner of the Bay, and the highest from North-western India. The general distribution agrees fairly with the average except that the range is greater, the readings in the north-west being above, and those in the south-east below the average. The winds are practically unchanged. The weather is cloudy or overcast over the Sunderbuns, Orissa, Malabar Coast, Mysore, Ceylon, and the Carnatic ; fine elsewhere. Rain has fallen over the south of the peninsula. The amounts at Madras, Negapatam, and Colombo are comparatively heavy. Rain to-day :—Madras, 3 inches ; Negapatam and Colombo, 1 inch ; Wellington, ½ inch. Previously, Nellore had 9 inches.

HARVEST FESTIVAL AT SONAPUR.

A HARVEST festival service was held in Holy Trinity Church, Sonapur, on Wednesday evening. The church was filled with members of the congregation and the supporters of the Indo-British schools. The service commenced with the hymn, "Hark, hark my soul !" used as a processional. The Rev. W. Ellison, Harbour Chaplain, intoned the prayers, Tallis' Responses being used. Psalm 145 was sung to a chant by Goss in E. The special lessons were, Deut. 28. 1-14 and Rev. 14. 14-20. After the third collect, the anthem, "Sing praises to God" (Wareing) was well rendered by the choir, the solo "Lift up your voices" being sung very sweetly by the Precentor, Mr. James Shepherd. Some of the passages in this anthem for treble and alto were particularly noticeable for their fulness. The Rev. G. Gothard, acting Garrison Chaplain, preached from 1 Cor. 15. 22, "Christ the first fruits." Having laid down the principle that all types and prophecy pointed to Christ, he went on to show that Christ was prefigured in the "wave sheaf," or sheaf of the first fruits which, under the ceremonial law, was presented at the Passover. The risen Christ presented before the Eternal Father, and accepted by him for us, is the first fruits of the great ingathering of the final harvest. The preacher, in conclusion, made a practical application of his subject by exhorting those present, who had met to thank God for the blessings of another harvest, to offer him their first fruits. Lowe's harvest carol "Holy is the seed-time" was sung as the offertory hymn, a second anthem, "Praise the Lord, O my soul" (M. Watson) immediately followed, the solo being effectively given by a member of the choir (Mr. J. Green), and the whole piece executed with much spirit. The recessional hymn, "Now thank we all our God," concluded the service. The choir was composed of the children of the schools and a few friends who volunteered their assistance. The result was a most reverent and hearty service. The church was tastefully and appropriately decorated for the occasion : sheaves of corn, and fruit and flowers, finding their proper place in the decorations, on which the greatest care had evidently been bestowed. The concluding blessing was given by the incumbent of the church, the Rev. C. Gilder. The offertory was for the Indo-British Institution.

THE BOMBAY NATURAL HISTORY SOCIETY.

THE usual monthly meeting of this Society was held on Monday, the 3rd instant, at 18, Forbes-street. The following members were present :—Mr. E. Gay (in the chair), Dr. E. H. Langley, Captain Olivier, Miss Pechey, Miss Dewar, Messrs. Sterndale, Bashford, Almon, King, Dumayne, Phipson, Symons, Brown, Carrol, Beyts, Craig, and Aitken.

After the minutes of the last meeting had been read the following new members were elected :—Surgeon-Major Bourke, Captain Russell, Dr. Paterson, Dr. Temperley Gray, Dr. Kirtikar, Messrs. R. McEwen, E. Ferrars Nicholson, F. Punnett, W. H. McCann, G.B. Reid (C. S.), R. C. Wroughton, H. Moscardi (C. S.), K. R. Kama, and Rustom K. R. Kama.

The Secretary reported that Dr. Sakharam Arjun had presented the society with a large aquarium. A vote of thanks to Dr. Sakharam for his handsome gift was passed. Mr. N. S. Symons proposed that members of the Society should be invited to give donations for the purpose of forming a library fund to be spent in purchasing standard works on natural history. The proposition was seconded by Mr. Phipson, and carried. Mr. Aitken proposed that, in view of the pressing necessity for a larger meeting room and more ample accommodation for the Society's collections, Mr. N. S. Symons, Captain Olivier, and Mr. H. M. Phipson should be requested to form themselves into a committee to make inquiries with a view to obtaining a suitable room in the Fort. Mr. Carrol seconded the proposition, which was carried unanimously.

The following recent additions to the Society's collections were then exhibited :—One very large specimen of the poisonous snake Daboia russelli, measuring 47 inches, presented by Mr. F. A. Little. One specimen of the same presented by Mr. N. S. Symons. Three snakes from Kanara, presented by Mr. Phipson. One of these was the venomous species Halys elliotti, not hitherto known to occur in this Presidency. One snake (Pityas mucosus) presented by Mr. C. Lowell. One sea-snake (Cheroydrus granulatus) and 10 species of fishes presented and beautifully preserved by Mr. H. M. Phipson. One scorpion fish presented by Mr. Aubrey Weedon. Several black scorpions from Mr. W. Wright, and insects, &c., from Messrs. Shaw, Freyvogel, Ormiston, Tyrrell Leith, R. C. Wroughton, Newnham, addressed to the other Cabinets interested in the commerce of Africa in view of the assembling of a Conference which should be called to pronounce on the regulations admitted in common accord by France and Germany."

The third letter is from Prince Bismarck to Baron de Courcel, and bears date Friedrichsruhe, September 30, 1884 :—

"I have had the honour to receive the Note which your Excellency has been good enough to address to me on the 29th of this month, and I observe with satisfaction the identity of views which is found to be thus established between our two Governments on the different points developed in my Note of the 13th instant. The Government of the French Republic having equally adhered to the idea of assembling in Conference at Berlin the Representatives of the other Cabinets interested in the commerce of Africa it would seem advantageous to proceed without delay to invite the latter, so that the opening of the Conference may take place in the course of the month of October. As Powers interested in the commerce of Africa, I will allow myself to indicate Great Britain, the Netherlands, Belgium, Spain, Portugal, and the United States of America; while—at the same time declaring in advance the assent of Germany if the Government of the Republic should deem it opportune to extend the invitation to other Maritime Powers whose co-operation might be deemed desirable. In order to assure to the resolutions of the Conference general assent it would, perhaps, be expedient to invite later on all the Great Powers and the Scandinavian States to participate in the deliberations; but in order to accelerate the meeting of the Conference it will be advantageous to limit for the moment the invitation to the Powers who are most interested. I should be obliged to you if you will be good enough to convey what precedes to the knowledge of your Government, whose reply I shall await in order to proceed without delay to the invitation to the Powers.

The fourth letter is from Baron de Courcel to Prince Bismarck and is dated Berlin, Oct. 2, 1884 :—

"I have hastened to convey to the knowledge of my Government the views expounded in the communication of your Serene Highness bearing date Sept. 30, concerning the meeting at Berlin of a Conference of Representatives of the different nations who are interested in the commerce of Western Africa. The Government of the Republic charge me to inform you of their acquiescence in your suggestions touching the period at which the opening of the Conference might take place and the procedure to be followed in regard to the invitations. M. Jules Ferry thinks, like your Serene Highness, that besides France and Germay, the Powers which should first of all participate in this Conference are Great Britain, the Netherlands, Spain, Portugal, Belgium, and the United States of North America. He equally shares your opinion in the point, that, in order to assure to the resolutions of the Conference a general assent, it would be expedient to invite later on all the great Powers and the Scandinavian States to associate themselves in the deliberations."

Holloway's Ointment and Pills.—Diseases of the Bowels.—A remedy, which has been tested and proved in a thousand different ways, capable of eradicating poisonous taints from ulcers and healing them up, merits a trial of its capacity for extracting the internal corruptions from the bowels. On rubbing Holloway's Ointment repeatedly on the abdomen, a rash appears, and as it thickens the alvine irritability subsides. Acting as a derivative, this unguent draws to the surface, releases the tender intestines from all acrid matters, and prevents inflammation, dysentery, and piles, for which blistering was the old-fashioned, though successful treatment, now from its painfulness fallen into disuse, the discovery of this Ointment having proclaimed a remedy possessing equally derivative, yet ,perfectly painless, powers.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE
THE ORIGINAL and ONLY GENUINE.

ADVICE TO INVALIDS.—If you wish to obtain quiet, refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media, and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by Dr. J. Collis Browne (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutica Chemists Medcal Hall, Simla, January 5, 1880, to J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russell-street, Bloomsbury, London. Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the widespread reputation this justly esteemed medicine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has obtained for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and judging from their sales, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralagia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Cholera Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a DELIBERATE BREACH OF FAITH ON THE PART OF THE CHEMIST TO PRESCRIBER AND PATIENT ALIKE. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists.

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was, undoubtedly, the Inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which, he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See "The Times," July 13, 1864.

Sold in bottles at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodine" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle

CAUTION.—Beware of Piracy and Imitations.

ARE THE BEST REMEDIES.

THE Restorative power of Phosphorus is MOST REMARKABLE. Cures are effected by the following Preparations in cases which have resisted all other medicines. In these form. Phosphorus is as harmless as Quinine, while its effects on the nervous system are far more beneficial.

PHOSPHORUS, IRON AND CANTHARIDSE No. 30.

CAUTION.—Messrs. H. & T. KIRBY & Co. have to caution the Medical Profession and the Public against SEVERAL IMITATIONS of their well-known preparations. Some of these are made with POWDERED PHOSPHORUS, and are EXCEEDINGLY DANGEROUS, while others are perfectly INERT.
